Tillman's Statement.

James H. Tillman, after his acquittal, made the following statement to the Associated Press:

"I feel very grateful at the result of the verdict, but at no time did I apprehend any serious consequences. I, of course, deeply regret the death of Mr. Gonzales, but I was forced to do what I did. I have never apprehended a conviction, for I felt that I did not do any more than any other man would have done under the same circumstances, and what I was compelled to do. My position was fully stated in the testimony I gave on the stand.

"I did ask for a change of venue because I was convinced, on account of prefudice in Richmond county, that I could not get a fair and impartial rial in that county. I felt sure that as soon as my case could be presented to an impartial jury I could be vindicated. The verdict has justified the correctness of my ludgment."

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Frank Pavlik created a dramatic scene in Judge Clifford's court today by pointing an accusing finger at his father and declaring that the latter was guilty not only of wife murder, but also of parricide.

"The murder of my mother is not the first one committed by my father," said the accuser. "In Bohemia, where twas born, he killed his own mother, too. He became enraged at my grandmother and struck her a vicious blow. For three weeks she suffered and finally died. My father was never punions."

If there is one thing more than all others that will give a man a forlorn and friendless appearance and make him morbid and "cranky" and disagreeable, that thing is dyspepsia. It makes one forget his friends and become morose and irritable. He is so wrapped up in his own misery that he is inconsiderate of every one else. Relieved of this terrible and depressing allment, he again becomes a good fellow and a man among men.

The thousands and thousands of cures they have brought about and the enormous increase of their sales fully attest the truth of this statement.

home at Trenton, where his wife is recovering from injuries received in a runaway accident.

Soon after the jury went out yesterday afternoon a ballot was taken which resulted in a vote of 10 to 2 for acquittal. Soon after, one of the minority joined the majority, leaving one juror standing out. He held to his views and kept the jury up all night. It was only about twenty minutes before the knock was heard on the jury room door this morning that he yielded. Many of the jurors got no sleep at all during the twenty hours they were locked up.

The count in the indictment charging the carrying of concealed weapons was ignored during the trial and the jury took no action on it.

After the verdict was announced, the clerk held up the pistols which had figured in the trial and offered them to the defendant, who waved them off, saying:

"They are not mine."

Letters In Evidence.

The government then submitted letters dated last February from Johns to Ryan at which time the latter was a grand jury witness and the former wanted him to meet him "half way." By these letters the alleged conspiracy, an effort to compromise so as to avoid prosecution.
